Sugan is selling in New Orleans at 41 cents per pound, and molames at from 18 to 20 cents per callon. In Chicago, the same quality of sugar retails at 13 cents, and molasses, common article, at 87 cents, golden syruy $1.125 per gallon. There is too wrich profit charged by the middle men. The cost of carriage bears no proportion to the tartif put upon it here.

Sinking of the Steamer Allegheny - Loss of Life--Boat and Carge a Total Loss-rhill, Tarticulars.

(From the St. Louis Democrat, Dre. 1.)

The Allegheny, which left this post yesterday afternoon, at two o'clock, under command of Capt. C. G. Wayne, when opposite Quarantine island, fourteen miles below the city, struck a sang, which raked her fore and aft, tearing almost her entire bottom out. She swang with her bow up Bream, and commenced sinking rapidly in seventeen feet water. The deck passeagers were in imminent danger, many of them jumping into the water, and were, with the exception of one man, saved. An incident occurred which shows the intrepidity of our boatmen. One of the deck passengers, a female, was in an upper berth on the lower deck, so much intoxicated that she was incapable of helping herself, and would undoubtedly have been drowned had not Mr. Caio, the mate, secured an axe, and entting the cabin floor open, jumped down and succeeded in rescaining the poor creature from certain death. A woman with her child seaped overboard, but was rescued—the child reported loct. Four or five after, deck passengers, seized the yawl and paidled over to the island, where they were left as a pumishment for their disgraceful and heart-less conduct.

The steamer James H. Lucas, from New Orleans, in the most prompt and noble manner came to the rescue, and took off the passengers, furnishing them with comfortable quarters and a good supper, without charge. To captains and officers McCreight and Love, the passengers over many obligations; and a paper was same diately drawn up and signed by them, as an acknowledgement for their kindness.

The principal part of the carge consisted of flour, mainly shipped by Geo. W. Thatcher; two hundred barrols and tierces of beer, shipped by Heuing & Woodruff; 300 boxes of soap, shipped by Schneffer, Anheuser & Co.; seventy barrels of ale, thirty of which were shipped by Pierson & Smith, and sundry small lots of turnips, apples, etc. The boat was owned by D. J. Hitchcook, of St House, and we understand that they amount to about 37,000. The masonry has been taken by Mortimer & Loberg, and the carpenter work by Ballard & Wilcox. A story is to built upon the present walls—the old roof remaining until the new one is done—and a large dome is to take the place of the present cupola. A belify is to be built over the south vestibule to receive the fire bell. So says the Journal.

nication to the President of the Chicago Reijef and Aid Society, was read at the meeting of our Executive Committee, whereupon it was resolved that the thanks of the Society be tendered to the Sons of Malta, for their donation of two thousand loaves of bread, to be distributed by the Society to the destitute of this city, and that the Secretary be directed to accept said donation, and to make such arrange-ments as be needful to carry the same into effect. FESTIVAL.—The ladies of the second Reformed Dutch Church, Rev. J. w. Perris, paster, hold a Festival this (France) evening, in Metropolitan Hail, for the perpose of defraying the expenses of Hail, for the perpose of defraying the expenses of furnishing the new church of that society.

M. Henry De Clercq, an accomplished violinist, late of Leipsic Conservatory, has kindly offered his services on the occasion. A variety of articles suitable for presents have been prepared, and there will be no lack of "good things" for the "inner man."

This society and their pastor eminently deserve the sympathy and aid of all well-wishers of good morshs and religion, and our citizens cannot better morals and religion, and our citizens cannot better show their good will and appreciation of their strug-gies than by lending a helping hand. We bespeak for them a hearty support.

A CHANCE TO OBTAIN EMPLOYMENT AND SECURE Home.—Operations have now commenced on the south Branch canals, and $1 per day is paid for nee, and $2.50 for teams, in the following manner, viz: The parties engaged upon the wark are to agree to purchase a lot or lots in the vicinity of the im-provement, and make the first payment in work, or they may work out any amount they can by the first of May next. This amount constitutes the first payment on said lot or lots, after which the purchaser is allowed nine annual installments by pay-ing six per cent interest annually on all unpaid sums from time to time. Only one-tenth of the Mr. Monte:th, of this city, who left Utica inst night, says boats are now freely moving, although tee had made very thick, and had to be broken up by a 40 horse team west of that city. His belief is that all boats east of Montezuma, going east, will get to their destination. A boat is sunk in the lock at Montezuma. price of the lot is required in case the purchaser prefers to work no longer. The price of the lots is from four to five bundred dollars. This strikes us as affording an excellent opportunity for the usemployed of our city, who have the means to live upon during the time they are engaged in working out the first payment for the lot. It not only gives present employment to those that would probably otherwise be idle, but these lots, thus secured, must, of necessity, be greatly enhanced in value as consistent. tion. A boat is sunk in the lock at Montezuma. This would prevent passing there if noishing else did. We hear, however, there were no tugs there to tow, and borses cannot be used. At about all points west of there boats were moving as near to railroad stations as possible, except between Lockport and Tenawanda, where the snow and lee are inspeacitable.—Thicker ice had formed along the central portion of the canal than on the western end, but there has been more snow on the latter.

About 650,000 bushels wheat are locked up by ice in the Welland Canal. Arrangements are making to flour a great portion of it, and send forward by rail. Nearly 1,000,000 bushels of all grain are on the Eric canal; a good portion, if it does not move forward during present thaw, will either be floured or be forwarded by mill. The interior millers own from one-third to one-half the amount. hanced in value as soon as the canals are completed, for then large manufacturing establishments, ma-chine shops, warehouses, lamber yards, &c., will be established there. It is in contemplation to extend a branch railroad track between some of these ca-nals, which will complete a system that will afford greater facilities for business of the kind specified above than any other locality in the city. This bevorable terms must soon prove as exceedingly good hive street. We would therefore advise the unemployed to investigate this matter for themselves, lithers How to Enjoy an Omnibus. e. l. On getting in, care neither for toes nor knees of the passengers, but drive your way up to the top, steadying yourself by the shoulders, chests at even faces of those reated.

2. Seal yourself with a jerk, pushing against one neighbor, and threating your chow hato the side of the other. Ten will thus get pleuty of room.

3. If possible, enter with a stick or undurella, pointed at full length, so that any sudden movement. It will make you feared.

4. When scated, occupy, if possible, the room of two and revenge the treatment you have received on entering, by throwing every opposition in the way of a new comer, especially if it be a woman with a child in her arms. It is a good plan to restrictly on your numbrella, with your arm at right as gives.

5. Open or shut windows as it suits you; men with if a wet day, should be particular not to pull up to the pathway.

10. For want of space, the following brevities must suffices. Never say where you wish to stop until after you have passed the place, and then pull them up with a sudden jerk. Keep your money in your waistcoat pocket, and button your upper and under coa-completely, and never attempt to get at it mell the door is opened, and then let it be nothing under a dollar bill. Never ask any one to speak to the driver for you, but hit or poke him with your site k through the hole.

Finally, consider an omnibus as a carriage, a bed, a public house, a place of annusement, or a boxing ring, where you may ride, sleep, smoke, chaff or quarrel, as it may sait you.

Free State Movement In Kansas.

Sr. Louis, Dec. 3.—At a meeting at Leavenworth, Kansas, on the 21st, resolutions were adopted similar to those passed at Lawrence on the 19th. Speeches were made by Vaughan, Phillips, Hutchinson, Moore and others. Phillips advises rallying around the Topeka Constitution, calling it the Magna Charta of Kansans. Vigilance Committees are being formed throughout the Territory.

A letter to the Democrat, dated Lawrence, Nov. 17th, states that Walker said he would call a special session, provided the members would sign a pledge guaranteeing that they would not go into general legislation.

New York, Dec. 3.—The New Orleans market of the 30th, published in the papers of Wednesday morning, contained a glaring error. A cipher word was wrougly transmitted by the National line, so that there appeared to be a decline of Ialic. per pound in coffee, whereas the decline was on molasses. There was no change in the price of coffee.

Albany, Dec. 3d.—Yesterday afternoon, a boat containing four men was carried over the Cohoes daw, and one of them was drowned.—He remained in the water all last night. Efforts were made to rescue them, but up to I o'clock, this morning, they were still in the water.

Resume of the Democratic Embroglic

Since it has become morally certain that a split will take place in the ranks of the Dam ocracy, on the question of renouncing the squatter sovereignty pledge, or of repudiating the Lecompton swindle, it may be useful to see ow the leaders of that party are arraying nselves upon the issue. Douglas has not yet arrived, but I am afraid tha ble that he will break with the South and the Ac and Cabinet are against him for the succession. This is said to be so. Old Buck, it is already him is feeling for a re-election, and the Cabinet are not supposed, any of them, to favor Douglas. Cobb is ooking out for himself.

The prospect just now is certainly good for a di vision among the negro Desaccracy, but who believes that it is a division of principle, in regard to Kansas matters, which occasions it? Douglas has stood by and justified for years far greater outrages in Kanssions made at Chicago. He may find it convenient to repudiate the articles in the Times and Buchanan those in the Union, and the chance in that some sort of a compromise may be patched up, for the purpose of retaining the spoils which will hold the bogus Democracy together. We must wait little for further developments. How much like the interposition of Providence it looks, that at the time when the slaveholding oligarchy has complete possession of all the departments of the govern ment, and was about to make complete the despot-ism of Kansas, it should and itself paralyzed by its ported triumph of the negro Democracy, were almost ready to despair of the capacity of the peodissensions among those seeking their overthrow. God be thanked for this manifestation of His god ness to the people of this land!

THE STEAMSHIP VANDERBILT.—The New York rebune contains a letter from H. B. Wilson passenger in the steamship Vanderbilt, or her last voyage from Southampton, in which he loudly complains of the III usage of passen-gers on board of that vessel, chiefly by taking as many again passengers as she is capable of dating. On her last trip she left Cowes with 230 first class passengers, whereas sequently her second class passengers, of which she had 75, were, a large share of them, including a considerable number of women and children, quartered in the forecastle, which, whenever there was a strong wind, would be drenched with water. By such exposure, two children were in the last stages of illness when the Van-derbilt reached New York, Mr. Wilson gives a long list of annoyances to which the passen-gers were subjected. The state-rooms, fitted p for two persons contained three; the skylights and "bull's eyes" were hardly ever opened during the voyage, consequently the ir, which was frequently heated to suffocation by the steam pipes, became so impure and ofpassengers had to use "penny dips," &c. These and many other amoyances the passengers had to suffer. Mr. Wilson says he has traveled extensively in Europe and America

"HIRELING FREE LABOR."-The New Orleans Delta constantly uses the phrase "Hiroling Free Labor," when speaking of the men of the North who earn their bread by the sweat of on the St. Louis Democrat, which it characterized as a bold, impudent, and reckless advo. cate of "Hireling Free Labor." The Delta quotes the exposition by the Democrat, of the objects of Gen. The Delta printing this, says Eli Thayer is engaged in similar villainy in Virginia, but it does not sppear that he has met with the same opposition as Gardenbire encountered in Missouri. One of the State Senators, James Green, delivered a speech in the capitol in which he denounced this hireling Free Labor scheme.

DEATH OF FDITORS.—Rev. Anson Rood, late editor and joint proprietor of the Philadelphia Doily Times, died on Friday last, at his resimee in that city. Mr. Rood was highly repected. The embarrassments which attended his enterprise, and the harassing character of ess details of a losing concern, fell toe eavily on him. His death was the result of a Bares IN THE Woods,-The Sanilac (Mich.) Leader says, that on the 16th of last month, three children, belonging to Joseph Bruttle, a French Cauadian; of Willow Greek, Lake Huron, went from their father's house into the woods, to search for winter greens, and lost their way. They were in the forest two nights and one day, before they were traced and found. One of them was a boy of four and the other two were girls, of six and eight years, respectively. They got into an old shanty in the woods, where the hoy lay down exhausted and speechless, his little nisters composing his limbs, sup-posing him to be dead. He was revived pardog accompanying the searching party was the first to find the little wanderers.

stock of horses, mules, and oxen. They had traveled across the plains by the way of Great Salt Lake City, on their way to Southern California, and had reached the rim of the great basin, about three hundred miles south-west of the Great Salt Lake city, and fifty miles from Cedar City, the most southerly of the Mormon settlements in Utah, when they were attacked and all destroyed, with the xception of fifteen young children, who were afterward bought from the Indians by the Morons. What we know of this affair, which eems to have taken place about the 10th or 11th of September, is derived from statements made by the Mormons as to what they had learned about it from the Indians, and from the tatements of another party of emigrants who had subsequently passed over the same route, having left Salt Lake City ten days later.— Suspicion would seem, however, to rest rather upon the extremely bad state of feeling which WASSILKOTON, Nov. 30, 1857.

The public announcement of the serious antagonism between the Administration and Gov.

Walk r, relative to Kansas affairs, has attract-Walker, relative to Kansas affairs, has attracted the gravest attention. No one questions the facts as presented. By general consent the condition of antagonism is accepted on all hands. The President is thought to have committed himself so decidedly to the policy of sustaining the action of the Constitutional Convention, that he cannot recede; and those who know the earnest convictions of duty and sound policy upon which Governor Walker bases his opposition to the course of that body, are well assured that he will stand firm as a rock, make the distinct issue before the people, and let the country decide between the President and himself.

country decide between the President and the Governor has only increased the improbability of their coming together upon a common platform. Mr. Buchanan and his Cabinet, after reviewing the whole subject again on Friday, stand a unit against Walker and in favor of sustaining the Convention. Not only us they accept that course as an inevitable duty; they go farther, and commend as highly judicious the ingenious device by which the Convention seeks to cheat the people of Kansas out of an opportunity to vote upon the entire Constitution. They justify it upon the presumption that the people of Kansas would reject the entire project if presented to them; and thus they concede their determination to exert the Federal power to force upon the people an organic law to which they are clearly opposed. Governor Walker ignores, altogether, the Slavery question, and takes his stand against the action of the Constitutional Convention

Governor and takes his stand against the action of the Constitutional Convention upon the ground that it strikes at the root of self government. It is, in his view, no longer an issue between Slavery and Pro-Slavery, but between Republicanism and Despotism, between the rule of the majority, and the absolutism of You will remember that before he went

You will remember that before he went to Kansas, in an argument which he made in a cele-brated case in the Supreme Conrt, he took the ground that there was a wide distinction between the power to make laws and the power to make governments. The former is a delogated pow-er, and the latter the power of soversignty, which cannot be delegated. This doctrins Gov. Walker reasserted in his Kansas inaugural, and subsequently in his Topeka speech, which averted a revolution, and probably a bloody civil war. ivil war. Applying it to the affairs of Kansas, the doc of those whose duty it was to attend to the trine aseris that the power to fasten a Constitu-tion upon the people of the Territory could not be delegated to a Convention, or any other body. All a Convention could do was as a Convention. All a Convention could do was, as a Committee of the people, to frame a Constitution for their absequent consideration nent consideration and decision.

attempt of such a Convention to violates the Federal Constitution.

But, independent of this vital issue of principle, the Constitution which the Kansas Convention have framed is obnoxious to a large majority of the people, on various points of detail.

For instance, it provides for a State Bank, with "got less than two branches." It may have an hundred branches if it chooses, and so flood the country with its paper issues. Yet the people are forced to vote unanimously in favor of this provision, if they vote at all in the December ced to vote unanimously in favor of the ion, if they vote at all in the Decemb disfranchised at the election of the delegates to the Convention, in consequence of the failure to carry out the provisions of the election law in regard to a census and registration of voters. The people were in no way at fault in this matter, and they only acquiseced in the meeting of the Convention at all, in the confident supposition that the difficulty would be corrected by their being allowed opportunity to vote upon the Constitution after it should be framed. The result of the Convention's extion is to force on the Territory a Constitution from voting upon which a larger number of citizens have been excluded than the entire number of those who elected the 43 delegates who signed that instrument.

those who elected the 43 delegates who signed that instrument.

Again: The Constitution creates an absolute despot, in the shape of General Calhoun, who, from the time of its adoption until the State Government goes into operation, is to preside ever the destinies of the State, be sole judge of the election returns, &c. &c. What a mockery is it to presend that the people even thought of delegating to the Convention the right to set this prince ever them, clothed with never so brief a space with regal powers! It is notorious that, if a candidate for constable, the people would republished for constable, the people would republished for constable, the most shameful mockery of the right of self Government to compel twenty thousand voters to accept them as their ruler, when scarce a twentieth of the number would accord him their suffrages?

on the 12th of October to investigate the facts in the recent massacre, on the Salt Lake road of more than one hundred and twenty Americans.

Mr. W. A. Wallace read a statement of Mr. George Powers, of Little Rock, Ark., who had just arrived across the Plains. Mr. Powers anys, on his arrival last August, at Salt Lake. "We found the Mormons making very determined preparations to fight the United State troops, whenever they may arrive. On their way in, we met three companies of one hundred men each, armed, and on the road towards the pass above Fort Bridger. I was told at Fort Bridger, that at Fort Supply, there were four hundred armed Indians awaiting orders; they also said that there were 50,000 pounds of flour stored at Fort Bridger for the use of their army. We found companies drilling every evening in the city. The Mormons declared to us that no United States troops should ever cross the mountains; and they talked and acted as if they were willing to take a brush with Uncle Sam. Mr. Powers kept on to Cedar City, 230 miles west of Salt Lake, when he met three Mormons from the scene of slanghter, in company with a band of some twenty Indian warriors. One of the men in company with Mr. Dame, was Mr. Haight, President of Cedar City. Mr. Dame left lying naked upon the ground, having been stripped of their clothing by the Indians. These Indians had a two horse wagon, flied with something I could not see, as blankets were carefully spread over the top. The wagon was driven by a white man, and beside him, there were two or three Indians in it. Many of them had shawls, and hundreds of women's clothing were tied to their saddles. They were also supplied with guns or pistols, besides bows and arrows. The hundmost Indians were driving several head of the emigrant's cattle, Mr. Dame and Mr. Haight, and their men, seemed to be on the best of terms with the Indians, and they were all in high spirits, as if they were mutually pleased with the accomplishment of some desired object. They thronged around us and greeted us with
